LATEST FROM HAWAII

Arrival of the Expected Steamship Australia.

NO STARTLING INFORMATION.

Minister Stevens Proclaims a Protectorate Over the Islands, Even Though It Be Only Until He Hears from Washington. Great Britain and Other Powers Recognize the Provisional Rule of the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The anxiously expected steamer Australia arrived off the Heads at an early hour yesterday morning with news that Minister Stevens had established a protectorate over the Hawaiian islands. The act was executed at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 1st inst., when the stars and stripes were raised over Aliiolani hall and the minister issued the following proclamation, which was published officially Feb. 1:

UNITED STATES LEGATION, }
Feb. 1, 1893.

To the Hawaiian people:

At the request of the provisional government of the Hawaiian islands, I hereby, in the name of the United States of America, assume protection of the Hawaiian islands for the protection of life and property and occupation of public buildings on Hawaiian soil as far as may be necessary for the purpose specified, but not interfering with the administration of public affairs by the provisional government. This action is taken pending and subject to negotiations at Washington.

JOHN L. STEVENS, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States.

Approved and executed by C. C. Wiltse, captain United States navy, commanding United States steamship Boston.

The provisional government at Honolulu has been busy since its inception. The executive and advisory councils formed the legislature, and held daily sessions to pass such acts as were deemed immediately needful. One of the earliest acts was the repeal of the lottery franchise act; another provided the following form of oath for all residents desiring to affirm allegiance to the provisional government:

I do solemnly swear in the presence of Almighty God, that I will support the provisional government of Hawaiian islands promulgated and proclaimed on the 17th day of January, 1893, not hereby renouncing, but expressly reserving all allegiance to any foreign country now owing by me.

Hundreds took the oath the first day it was available.

The legislature also passed an act prohibiting the importation of firearms or explosives, except by the government.

Since the change of government took place ex-Queen Liliuokalani has resided at her country residence. It has been stated, however, that she has held several secret meetings with Kahuans in the city.

Shortly after the sailing of the last steamer the provisional government received certificates of recognition as the de facto government from Japan, France, Great Britain, Chili, Denmark, Germany, Austro-Hungary, Spain, Portugal, Peru and the Netherlands.

The following is the British minister's letter to the provisional government recognizing the new regime:

BRITISH LEGATION, HONOLULU, }
Jan. 19, 1893.

GENTLEMEN—The receipt of your communication of the 17th inst., is acknowledged, together with a copy of the proclamation informing me that for reasons set forth in the said proclamation the Hawaiian monarchy has been abrogated and a provisional government established, and whereby you ask me to recognize the said provisional government as the existing de facto government and to afford it the moral support of my government. In reply, I beg to say that I recognize the said provisional government as the existing de facto government pending instructions from my government. I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JAMES H. WODEHAUS,
H. M. Minister Resident.

The Hawaiian flag still floats in the palace court yard. The palace, barracks, police station, custom house, etc., remain in possession of the provisional government, which will administer public business as usual. The arms and ammunition will be withdrawn from Aliiolani hall which, until definite intelligence arrives from the United States, will be guarded by a detachment from the Boston.

Martial law still continues at Honolulu, but the hours were lessened. Its proclamation resulted in the maintenance of complete order and diffused a feeling of security throughout the community.

Among the passengers on the steamer were Paul Neuman, the deposed queen's attorney, Prince Kawanakow, and Judge H. A. Wademan, who are on their way to Washington to present the queen's case.

The provisional government's volunteer army is increasing visibly. Legislative hall and other rooms at the government have been converted into barracks for the men.

James R. Castle has been appointed secretary of the executive and advisory councils of the new regime.

THE NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

Comments on the Actions of Minister Stevens.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The news of the action of Minister Stevens became a subject of general comment in the house after the excitement of the silver vote had died away. It met with the approval of the Republican side of the house and with a mixed reception on the Democratic side, the prevailing sentiment on that side, however, being one of antagonism to a commitment of this government to annexation or to a protectorate or to the commitment of congress by the executive branch of the government. There were some members who sharply criticised Minister Stevens and thought his conduct unwarranted.

Late last night, Secretary of State Foster received the following dispatch from Minister Stevens:

HONOLULU, Feb. 1. }
Via SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9. }

SECRETARY OF STATE: The provisional government of Hawaii is gaining power and respect. Everything is quiet. Annexation sentiment is increasing. Dead monarchy and opposition to annexation is supported chiefly by the lottery and opium rings. Today at 9 a. m., in accordance with the request of the provisional government of Hawaii, I have placed the government of Hawaii under United States protection during negotiations, not interfering with the execution of public affairs. Dispatches by mail with full details.

STEVENS. Speaking of the dispatch and the developments of the day in the Hawaiian situation, Secretary Foster said that the action of Minister Stevens in declaring the Hawaiian islands under the protection of the United States was taken without instructions from the department of state. In fact, the movement for the change of government was unexpected, and had not been anticipated by instructions from Washington.

Mr. Stevens had, therefore, been compelled to act independently and upon his best judgment, as the emergencies had arisen. The only instructions given by the department was the telegram of the 28th ult., already published, approving Mr. Stevens' recognition of the provisional government, an act on his part which had been followed by all the foreign representatives in Honolulu.

He had been further instructed to protect American citizens and property. Secretary Foster stated that American citizens were the owners of at three-fourths of the entire real and personal property of the islands, and they were more interested than all other residents in the preservation of peace and good government.

There was no conference yesterday between the secretary of state and the Hawaiian commissioners, as Thursday is diplomatic day at the department, and the secretary was fully occupied with the calls of foreign ministers.

Yesterday evening Mr. Lorrin A. Thurston, with the consent and approval of his associate commissioners, made a statement in reply to the letter from J. F. Colburn, ex-minister of the interior of the Hawaiian cabinet, published in the papers yesterday. Mr. Thurston says:

"It has been claimed by and on behalf of Queen Liliuokalani that the late Hawaiian government yielded to the force of the United States when they surrendered to the Hawaiian provisional government, and the claim has been amplified in some of the papers into a charge that the whole movement was a preconcerted conspiracy in favor of annexation." This statement has already been denied by the commissioners.

"In the first place the undisputed facts show that no action was taken by anybody until the 14th of January, after the queen had attempted with force to abrogate the existing constitution and proclaim a new one. The uprising of citizens, which finally resulted in the establishment of the provisional government, took place at the express request of the cabinet, of which Mr. Colburn was a member, in response to a call from the cabinet to the citizens to support them with arms against the demands of the queen.

"When the trouble began on the 14th, the United States minister and the United States steamer Boston were both absent from Honolulu and had been for about ten days previous, on a cruise to the Windward islands. If the American minister and the commander of the Boston had been in a conspiracy with the queen or any one else to cause a disturbance, they would most certainly have remained at the capital during the closing days of the legislature when there was more likelihood than at any other time to be a disturbance. In the second place, if they had been seeking or scheming for any such object they would with equal certainty have embraced the first opportunity for landing United States forces. There was ample justification for such a course to have been followed by the American minister on Saturday the 14th, Sunday the 15th, or at any time on Monday the 16th. No troops, in fact, were landed until 5 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday the 16th of January.

"The sole questions remaining to be considered are: 'First, did the circumstances warrant the American minister in landing troops? and, second, after they were landed, did they take any action against the queen's government, or in any way interfere in local affairs?' The reply to the first inquiry is that the circumstances most emphatically justified Mr. Stevens in landing the troops for the protection of American citizens and their property.

"Second, the queen having threatened the lives of her ministers, including Mr. Colburn, the cabinet appealed to the citizens for armed support, of which they were immediately assured on the same afternoon that it was requested. The city was therefore in a state of revolution that Saturday afternoon, with the queen and 700 armed men on one side and the cabinet and practically the entire business community, led by determined men who had announced their intention to resist encroachment upon their rights, upon the other.

"At 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon 1,500 men announced their intention, by the adoption of the most bold and emphatic resolutions, to not only resist the proposed aggression of the queen, but to take such measures as would finally and perpetually put an end to the continually increasing disturbances which had become of such frequent occurrence. At the meeting and throughout the city this was openly stated and known to every one to be a proposition to abrogate the monarchy and establish a provisional government. All of the regular forces of the government, together with their 540 extra men, were entrenched in the barracks at the palace and the police station.

"There was every indication of a fight, and a bloody one, which might be precipitated at any minute, in which many lives and much property would have been inevitably destroyed. At the request of many American citizens the committee notified the American minister of the situation, and asked assistance in the protection of life and property. Under these circumstances the United States minister landed the United States troops in accordance with well established precedent.

"The troops landed at 5 o'clock and marched directly to the American consulate, where a guard was left. A detachment was sent to the American legation and the remainder were marched to the grounds of an American citizen, Mr. J. B. Atherton, where they remained until sleeping quarters could be obtained for the night.

"The United States uniform was not seen upon the streets, except upon the persons of the necessary officers conveying orders between the captain and his subordinates.

"Again, there was no public acknowledgment of the provisional government by the American minister until after the abdication of the queen and surrender of the barracks and police station, together with all the forces and munitions of war located therein.

"As to the further action of the provisional government requesting a protectorate and the United States minister acting in compliance therewith and establishing such protectorate pending negotiations in Washington, news of which has been brought by the Australia today, I would say that having every confidence in the men composing the provisional government, I do not believe that they would have taken this action unless they had deemed it necessary for the preservation of life and property.

"The protectorate does not in any manner interfere with the regular progress of the public business under the provisional government nor with the negotiations with the United States government.

The Queen Willing for Annexation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Paul Neuman, a member of ex-Queen Liliuokalani's cabinet, was among the passengers on the steamer Australia which arrived from Honolulu yesterday. He is on his way to Washington where he will lay the case of the deposed queen before the state department. Mr. Neuman refused to disclose the nature of the dispatches he bore, but he felt sure they would have much weight with the president and secretary of state.

In reply to a question as to the disposition of the ex-queen towards the United States, Mr. Neuman said: "She is as friendly to the United States as anybody on the island, and if the United States wants to annex Hawaii she is perfectly willing if it is done properly."

Minister Stevens' Daughter Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—News was brought by the steamship Australia of the death by drowning, at Hawaii, of Miss Stevens, the American minister's eldest daughter. The flags on all the consulates are flying at half-mast.

CUSTOM HOUSE CAR ROBBED.

A Daring Piece of Work Done by Expert Thieves.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—The custom house lock on a freight car arriving here early yesterday morning was found to be broken, and it is suspected that a large amount of valuable goods have been taken. The car was full of silk and silver imported goods consigned to many wholesale dealers at the port of St. Louis.

The car passed Newark all right at midnight, and the train stopped at Pataskala for water. It is believed that the burglars entered the car there and threw out the goods on the way here. A candle nearly burned was found inside, indicating that the robbers were at work for some time in the car. The floor was strewn with wrappers and labels.

F. E. Hayden, surveyor of this port, took charge of the car but, of course, has no knowledge of the goods in the car. The bond on the car shows it to have been sent directly from piers 27 and 28, New York city, to the surveyor of the port of St. Louis.

EXPLOSION OF A GASOLINE STOVE.

A Man and His Daughter Fatally Burned and Building Destroyed.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 10.—By the explosion of a gasoline stove in the dyeing and scouring establishment of Edward Whitehouse, 415 Forty-fifth street, at 11 o'clock yesterday, the building and contents were totally destroyed and Mr. Whitehouse and his daughter, Emma, were fatally burned.

The father received his injuries in a heroic effort to save his daughter and to secure the removal of Mrs. Murray, an invalid, from the second floor of the burning building. This accomplished, Mr. Whitehouse fell unconscious. The physicians say there is no hope for his recovery.

MENOMINEE, Mich., Feb. 10.—Fire destroyed the M. and M. hospital building, which was occupied as a private boarding house, at an early hour yesterday morning. The inmates barely escaped with their lives. One of the boarders had his leg broken and many others were seriously cut and bruised by jumping from the windows.

A NEW RELIGION.

It is Led by a Man Who Claims the Divine Power of Healing.

COLUMBUS, Kan., Feb. 10.—The people of this place are greatly excited over the spread of a new religion, of which John and David Deems, of this place, are the founders and chief expounders. The basis of their religion is the government of personal conduct according to the teachings of the New Testament, literally interpreted. John Deems devotes himself to the material and David to the spiritual phase of the new religion. John claims a divine healing power, manifested by the simple laying on the hands, and, if the testimony of converts is to be believed, his power is indeed wonderful.

Ruth Moore, a girl of sixteen years, living here, was cross-eyed. She says John Deems placed his hands over her, and her eyes were straightened.

Mary Olds was thrown out of a carriage and received injuries to her spine, which resulted in the total paralysis of her limbs. She says John Deems bade her to arise and walk, and she at once recovered the use of her limbs.

Kittie Saulding had been a sufferer from hip disease, and Mary Speyton was dying of cancer of the face. John Deems administered to them, and both were cured.

David Deems does the preaching for the new religion. The burden of his discourses has been, "Leave all and follow me." Many have accepted the new religion and several have deserted families to follow Deems. Homes have been broken up and families have been distributed until now the civil authorities, backed by the sentiment of the orthodox people of the town, have determined to break up the sect.

John and Charles Wolz, two of the most fervent of the new converts, have been adjudged insane by the probate court and have been sent to the state asylum.

Efforts will be made in a few days to have the Deems brothers adjudged insane, in the hope that by their removal the community will put an end to the spread of their teachings. The Deems brothers say: "They will be done." They will not resist the efforts to send them to the asylum. Deems says if he is sent there he will cure all the patients. If the attempt to rid the community of the Deems by legal means fails, the orthodox people threaten to drive them out by physical force.

THEY HAVE QUIT.

Attempt to Work Non-Union Switchmen Fails.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 10.—An attempt was made here yesterday morning to operate the Big Four yards with twenty-three non-union men, brought from all over the country. They claim they came through misrepresentation. Six have already quit.

John Dowdley, first national vice grand master of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association, returned to Chicago this morning, having decided that he could do nothing because the strike was not wholly a union one.

Superintendent Gibson has issued a notice that applications for re-employment will be received individually from the strikers, sixty-nine in number, who have resolved to strike together.

The strikers are circulating a petition among the manufacturers for the removal of Yardmaster Carney.

QUEENSLAND FLOOD.

Total Damages Done Estimated at Fifteen Million Dollars.

BRISBANE, Feb. 10.—The flood has receded from most of the city districts, which are now covered with mud and slime. The stench is horrible, and, unless the city be cleaned within a few days will undoubtedly cause an epidemic.

The gunboat Palot was lost in shoal water by the sudden receding of the flood, and now rests high and dry on the botanical gardens, on the bank of the river.

Great misery prevails in the poorer parts of the city, and cases of theft and robbery have doubled within the last two days.

The total damage done by the flood is estimated to approximate $15,000,000.

Drunken Blacks Commit Murder.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—Thursday morning about 1 o'clock Officer Albert Torregano was shot and killed at the corner of Esplanade and Broad streets while attempting to arrest a half drunken negro. The officer was talking to a gentleman, when he heard pistol shots. He ran in the direction of the shooting, and found a negro, whom he attempted to arrest. The negro called for help, and five other half drunken negroes appeared and commenced shooting, inflicting several deadly wounds. Other officers arrived and the negroes fled. No arrests were made.

Terrible Tragedy.

JACKSON, Mich., Feb. 10.—A terrible tragedy was enacted here shortly after noon yesterday and, in consequence, two persons are lying in a dying condition in the city hospital. Charles Brown shot his wife twice in the body and then fired a bullet into the head of Dick Sly, an ex-convict. Neither of the wounded can recover. Brown was arrested. Brown said Sly was hanging around Mrs. Brown and he had become sick of it. He expressed no regret.

The Hearses Floated.

BUCKEYS, O., Feb. 10.—While Will Mathew was driving across the river to Maude Haymaker's funeral with the hearse, the horses went in over their heads and the hearse was under water for a time. The horses finally pulled the vehicle ashore, and the mourners profiting by the sight of the foundering horses, turned and went to the cemetery another way.

INSANE ASYLUM FIRE

Horrible Holocaust at Dover, New Hampshire.

FORTY-FOUR LIVES WERE LOST.

Of the Forty-Eight Inmates Only Four Escaped—A Blinding Snowstorm Raging at the Time, and Those That Escaped Suffered Extreme Hardships—Names of the Victims.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 10.—The county insane asylum, four miles from here, was burned last night and forty-four lives were lost. When Watchman William Chevey made his 10 o'clock trip into the insane asylum he found the fire coming out of the cell occupied by A. Lafamitain, a woman, and gave the alarm. William Driscoll, the keeper, with his family, lived in the building, and he at once broke the locks off the fifty-four cells and tried to get the inmates out, then he got his wife and two children, neither of whom were dressed.

Of the forty-eight inmates, only four escaped. They are William Twombly, Rose Sanderson, William Davey and Frank Donshon. The latter walked two miles in a blinding snowstorm, with only his shirt on, to William Horne's house, where he was taken care of.

Those who were burned were:

Robert Dione, of Salem Falls; N. H.; Mary Fountain, of Great Falls; Frank Nutter, of Rochester; William Chesley, of Durham; Mrs. Roberts, of Great Falls, and an eight-year-old child; Lester Jones, of Farmington; William Twombly, of Barrington; Owen Malley, of Great Falls; Michael Case, of Dover; Frank Rowe, of Great Falls; Charles Libby, of Great Falls; Frank Page, of Rochester; W. Filles, of Great Falls; Frank Spriggins, of Dover; Harry Kimball, of Dover; Julia Keil, of Dover; Mrs. Mary Lavin, of Salmon Falls; Mrs. Mary McClintock, of Dover; Maggie White, of Great Falls; Ann Carr, of Rollinsford; Mary Nutter, of Rochester; Mary Maloney, of Dover; Lenia Ellis, of Lee; Mary Twindall, of Milton Mills; Caroline Rait, of Dover; Mrs. Ann Rothwell, of Dover; Lizzie Ellis, of Great Falls; Catherine Haley, of Dover; Elizabeth Pickering, of Gonic; Mary Cogley, of Dover; Sarah Sweet, of Rochester; Sarah Hutchings, of Dover; Kate Duffee, of Dover; Sarah McClintock, of Great Falls; Fannie Slattery, of Great Falls; Ann McDermott, of Dover; Addie Otis, of Great Falls, and six others whose names could not be remembered by the keeper and his books were burned in the building.

The building was of wood, 135 by 86 feet, two stories high, with a big yard on each side. It was built fifty years ago and had fifty cells. One woman escaped to the yard, but was burned to death there. The building cost $150,000. The main building, in which was over one hundred of the county poor, caught fire, but was saved by the heroic efforts of the inmates, who carried pails of water and extinguished the flames, although many were burned in so doing.

The Dover fire department was summoned, but owing to the distance, the blinding snowstorm and the icy roads, it took ninety-five minutes for the department to get there, too late to be of any service. The smoking ruins show the charred bodies still laying on their beds. How the building caught fire is a mystery.

CONGRESS PROCEEDINGS.

No Silver Legislation During the Present Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The whole of yesterday's session of the senate, after the morning hour, was devoted to a discussion of the railroad automatic car coupler bill. The substitute reported by the committee on interstate commerce was amended by making the first section, requiring the use of power driving wheel brakes, go into force on the 1st of July, 1898, instead of 1895, and the fourth section, requiring the use of grab irons or hand holds in the ends and sides of cars, go into force on the 1st of July, 1895, instead of 1893. It was also amended by striking out of the second section all but the first sentence. The section as amended simply makes it unlawful to use cars after the 1st of January, 1898, that are not "equipped with couplers, coupling automatically by compact, and which can be uncoupled without the necessity of men going between the cars." Final action was not taken on the bill. In the course of one of his passionate little speeches, Mr. Wolcott, Republican, of Colorado, had a somewhat angry interchange of words with Mr. Cullom, and alluded to Mr. Pepper, Populist, of Kansas, as one of these people who make use of the labor movement to reach public office.

It was silver day in the house, and the friends of silver were victorious in the fight by a majority of 9. They sustained the demand for the previous question on the resolution setting apart yesterday and today for the consideration of the bill repealing the Sherman act. Had not the previous question been ordered, a cloture amendment would have been sprung upon the house and the struggle would then have been continued. But when it was ordered advocates of the repeal bill gracefully passed under the yoke and allowed the resolution to be recommitted without making any strong objection. This action in the opinion of members sounds the deathknell of any silver legislation in the present congress. The remainder of the day was devoted to the consideration of the legislative appropriation bill.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.
 For Kentucky, showers, clearing during the day; westerly winds; slightly colder Friday evening.

HON. CHARLES BRONSTON will be the next United States Attorney for the District of Kentucky, and it would be a most difficult matter to find any one more thoroughly qualified for the position.

MR. JAMES N. KEHOE was appointed Master Commissioner of the Mason Circuit Court this morning. Mr. C. Burgess Taylor's appointment as Trustee of the Jury Fund was mentioned a few days ago. Judge Harbeson has made excellent selections for both of these places, and the appointments will be generally commended. Mr. Kehoe and Mr. Taylor are worthy young men, quiet, straight-forward and industrious, attentive to every duty and thoroughly fitted for the positions they have been selected to fill.

Good Advice to Louisville Papers.
 G. R. Keller, in Carlisle Mercury: "Judge Lindsay won his race without much trouble; in fact, there was never a time when he did not have enough votes to nominate him. This was a well-known fact here (Frankfort); but, for some unexplainable reasons, the correspondents of the daily papers failed and refused to give the correct news. This may be great newspaper strategy; but it is calculated to lessen the value of the daily paper as a correct mirror of what is going on. The great Louisville Democratic dailies should take a rest on themselves before they lose all the power they ever had. People want news, and not direction, and no great daily can afford to use its news columns to secure political ends."

 Goldsmith, the big cattle exporter, recently bought 17,000 head at Omaha.
 H. C. Loudon, of Georgetown, O., sold six hogheads of tobacco at Cincinnati recently at 23 cents.
 Hogs are higher than at any previous time since 1892. In September of that year they touched $9.35, but before the end of the year the price had dropped to $7. That year mess pork sold as high as $24.75.
 The Breeder's Gazette, in an editorial on the present condition of the stock markets, says: "Hogs have now passed the $8 mark and mess pork has sold at $20 per barrel. In the opinion of many well-informed parties in the trade even these high figures do not represent the climax of the boom. It is true that porkers can be bred to order much quicker than steers, but as some one puts it about "everything old enough and strong enough to squeal" has already been sold for shipment, and it must in the very nature of the case be some months before the new crop can be drawn upon."

WOOD AGAINST THE M. AND B. S. Decision of the Superior Court Affirming the Judgment of the Mason Circuit Court.

Mention was made a few days ago that the Superior Court had affirmed the judgment of the Mason Circuit Court in the case of George T. Wood against the M. and B. S. Railroad. Mr. Wood sued for damages to his property on the south side of Third street, Fifth ward, resulting from the cutting down of that thoroughfare, and was awarded $1,200. Judge Brent in affirming says:
 First—In an action against a railroad company to recover damages for injury to abutting property resulting from the unreasonable obstruction of a street along which the road is constructed and operated, it was error to allow plaintiff to prove the value of the property just before it was generally known that the road was to be built on that street and then its value just after the road was so located and constructed, without directing the minds of the witnesses to the fact that they were to speak of such difference in value, if any, as was due to the obstruction of plaintiff's ingress and egress by reason of the location, construction and operation of the road; but as there is nothing to indicate that the witnesses did not know what causes of depreciation they were to consider, this court will not assume for the purpose of reversing that they were mistaken as to that matter. To reverse, the prejudice to appellant should be as clearly apparent as the error itself.
 Second—While one of the instructions taken alone is liable to the objection that it virtually tells the jury that, independent of any unreasonable obstruction to plaintiff's rights of ingress and egress, they may give her damages for any depreciation in value of her property caused by the location and operation of the railroad on the street, yet when taken in connection with the other instructions the jury must have understood that they could not give damages for any depreciation in value other than such as resulted from an obstruction of plaintiff's rights of ingress and egress, and therefore, the error was not prejudicial.
 Wadsworth & Son, Cochran & Son for appellant; E. L. Worthington for appellee.
 The case of W. W. Lynch against the same company has also been affirmed. Mr. Lynch was awarded $1,500.

Death of Thomas Craven.
 Mr. Thomas Craven died last night shortly after 12 o'clock, of consumption. He had been ill about a year. Deceased was born in County Galway, Ireland, but spent most of his life in this country. He had been a resident of Maysville for thirty-five years, and was about sixty years of age.
 Deceased was a quiet and industrious man, and a good citizen. His wife and one daughter survive him. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Patrick's Church under the auspices of St. Patrick's Benevolent Society, of which deceased was a member. Burial at Washington.

An attempt was made to assassinate William McNamara, the principal witness in the McCourt case, in Covington, Wednesday evening. McNamara was assaulted by John C. McCourt, the ex-freight agent, Albert Marks, his brother-in-law, and "Billy" McHugh. Marks cut McNamara's throat with a razor.

A new play with a catchy title, "Killarney and the Rhine," delighted a large audience at the opera house last night. It is bright and lively; has a strong plot which is told by a strong body of players, and should be a golden success with lovers of melo-dramatic power and sweet songs and dances.—The World, August 25.

MAYSVILLE certainly has many good voices, and their possessors are as accommodating a set as can be found. Dr. Strode, Dr. P. G. Smoot, Professor Rowland and "Colonel" Frank Ellis will give two beautiful selections between acts at "Little Women" to-night. There are a few seats in the dress circle not yet taken, and some good ones in the balcony.

Labouchere's Share in a Journal.
 Since there is no longer any concealment necessary with regard to the severance of Mr. Labouchere's connection with The Daily News I may mention that the price paid for his share in the newspaper was £90,000. When he first became connected with the proprietorship of the paper, more than five and twenty years ago, he paid the representatives of the outgoing or deceased shareholder £11,000 for the holding of which he has now received a sum more than sufficient to start a morning newspaper of his own. Nothing is yet known as to his intentions, but it is regarded as by no means impossible that, in conjunction with Sir Charles Dilke, who has long wished to own or have an interest in a daily paper, some plan may be adopted by which the advanced or disaffected radicals, as distinguished from the ministerialists, will have an organ of their own.—Leeds Mercury.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Mason & Foard Company and the "Pen"—Doings of the State Solons.

The Mason & Foard Company, lessees of the State prisons, submitted their report to the House and Senate. They present claims against the State of over $40,000 to offset the claim of the Sinking Fund Commissioners that the company is indebted to the State to the amount of $40,000. The company virtually admits an indebtedness of $3,000.

Thursday morning there was a bomb dropped in the House. Mr. Tate, of Wayne, offered a resolution calling upon the Mason & Foard Company to furnish the names of their common and preferred stockholders, &c. Mr. O'Meara, of Hardin, objected to the resolution upon the ground that the lawmaking power of the Commonwealth had not the right inquire into the private business matters of any corporation. Speaker Moore decided the point well taken and the resolution out of order, and Pettit, of Daviess, sent up an appeal. The Speaker's ruling, reduced to writing, recited that the resolution made no reference to the character of the Mason & Foard Company's contract, the matter in which the State is concerned, and did not point out any deficiency in their bonds, and that the inquiry was impertinent.

Mr. Pettit made a stiff speech against the company.

Regular business intervened at this juncture and the matter went over until to-morrow.

The resolution is only an additional frebrand to the burning question before the State authorities on the prison question. The Governor and State Auditor are at utter variance upon these matters. It was intimated that the Auditor was a stockholder in the Mason & Foard Company and the resolution was for the purpose of disclosing such fact.

The bill prohibiting the manufacture or sale of cigarettes in Kentucky failed to pass for lack of a constitutional majority. The vote stood 38 to 23, 51 being necessary.

JUDGE BENNETT of the Court of Appeals has created a sensation by publishing a card declaring his son, Caswell Bennett, Jr., insane. The Judge says his son is insane, and that his mania is for giving checks upon banks all over the country and signing his father's name. Young Bennett was, up to three months ago, tipstaff of the Superior Court which office he had to give up on account of his shortcomings. He was quite a figure in social circles until recently.

Five of Them Sentenced by a French Judge.

HEAVY FINE AND IMPRISONMENT

Count De Lesseps and His Son Among the Number—Five Years in Prison and a Fine of Three Thousand Francs. Fire Caused a Panic in a Berlin Restaurant—Six People Crushed to Death. Other Foreign News.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Expectation that the sentences of the prisoners in the Panama trial would be delivered yesterday afternoon, brought large crowds to the court of appeals building. Presiding Judge Perivier read the decision, after having dismissed the prisoners' plea that they should benefit by the statute of limitations. The audience listened with oppressive intensity of interest.

The charge of fraudulent proceedings against Ferdinand De Lesseps, Charles De Lesseps, Henry Cottu and Marius Fontane was held to be proved. The directors had dealt with underwriting syndicates which, as far as their utility was concerned, were fictitious and were known to be fictitious. In underwriting loans these syndicates had taken upon themselves no risks and yet they had received enormous sums from the company. The expenses necessarily attendant upon the issue of loans had been grossly exaggerated by the directors, and this exaggeration also constituted a fraudulent act. It was not necessary that the money should have been misappropriated or squandered, or should have benefited the directors in order that they be found guilty. Their fraudulent intent was the same whether the same purpose was carried out or not.

In dealing with Gustave Eiffel's breach of trust the decision said that M. Eiffel had received 120,000,000 francs for the construction of the ten locks and had promised to complete five by 1890. The evidence had shown that he had not even purchased the specified materials necessary in the construction of these locks; in fact, he had bought in France, all told, but 1,233,000 francs worth of materials. He had pretended, furthermore, to fulfil the obligations he had undertaken, while, in reality, he was simply misappropriating the funds.

In conclusion, Judge Perivier read these sentences: Ferdinand De Lesseps, five years' imprisonment and 3,000 francs fine; Charles De Lesseps, five years' imprisonment and 3,000 francs fine; Marius Fontane, two years' imprisonment and 3,000 francs fine; Henry Cottu, two years' imprisonment and 3,000 francs fine; Gustave Eiffel, two years' imprisonment and 20,000 francs fine.

The sentences have caused a profound sensation, especially that of M. Ferdinand De Lesseps. The judgment finds the defendants guilty of swindling and breach of trust.

Count De Lesseps is the great engineer of the Suez canal, and was the head of the Panama canal project. He has long been the most distinguished engineer of the world, and is eighty-four years old. It is believed that he can not survive the disgrace until his term of imprisonment expires.

KILLED IN A PANIC.

Six Persons Crushed to Death After a Foolish Cry of Fire.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—An alarm of fire, attended with tragic results, occurred in Leipzig last night. Schaeffer's restaurant, one of the principal in the city, was thronged with people about midnight. Suddenly some one cried, "Fire!" A wild panic prevailed and everybody made a rush to get through the only place of egress, a narrow passageway.

This was soon blocked by a struggling mass of people, who prevented each other from escaping. Those who fell were immediately closed upon and had the life crushed out of them, and others were fatally jammed against the walls. It was found that six persons had been killed in the panic, and three others seriously and perhaps fatally injured. The fire which had caused the panic was a comparatively slight affair.

Member of Parliament Dead.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The death of Louis John Jennings, Conservative, member of the house of commons for Stockport, was announced yesterday. Mr. Jennings, who is well known in the United States, was born in London in 1836. Between 1863 and 1868 he acted as special correspondent for the London Times in India and the United States. He subsequently became connected with the New York Times, and while acting as editor of that paper was chiefly instrumental in exposing and overthrowing the Tweed ring. In 1885 he stood for election in Stockport and was returned. Mr. Jennings was the author of a number of works.

Duel in Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—A duel was fought yesterday between M. Norbert de Benoit, deputy from Avoiron, and M. Marie-Emile Gousset, deputy from St. Denis, in consequence of remarks made by Gousset in the chamber of deputies Wednesday. The two men fought with swords and, although Benoit is considerably older, being about fifty-five years of age, while Gousset is only a little over thirty, he proved himself the better swordsman of the two and succeeded in wounding his opponent.

Life of an Italian Signalman.

A signalman in Italy has a remarkably easy time of it in comparison with his British brethren. This is of course partly due to the greater leisureliness of railway traffic in the peninsula, but is partly also the outcome of the conditions under which he is required or permitted to ply his calling. He is always married—if he were a bachelor he would not be employed—and his little cabin beside the railway is also his home. He is free during the daytime, at least, to engage in any other occupation he may desire. When a train passes his wife puts on his hat—an official covering—and goes out to give the necessary signal with the flag. The wages amount to about a franc and a half a day.—London Tit-Bits.

An Ancient Work on Angling.

The greatest work of antiquity on angling is said to be the Haliectica of Oppian, a Greek poet, who flourished in the time of Severus, A. D., 193, from which we learn that many artifices in fishing thought to be modern were known to the ancients. We also learn from Athenaeus that several other writers had written treatises or poems on fishing some centuries before the Christian era.—American Angler.

Four People Burned to Death.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10.—Heider's restaurant, 265 and 267 West Fifth street, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning and four people burned to death and two others injured. The dead are: Albert Grau, aged thirty; Fritz Detzel, aged twenty-two; Joseph Mauser, aged sixty, and Gottlieb Mussinger, aged thirty, all employees of the restaurant. Maria Schlichte, aged fifteen, and Officer Slattery, were injured, though not seriously. The financial loss was about $15,000.

A Tennessee Tragedy.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 10.—In Green county Tom Hixon and Jim Cole, claiming to have a warrant for a Mrs. Johnson's arrest, went to her house. She called her husband, whose feet were frozen, and he crawled out of the house, opened fire on the men and was shot dead. Mrs. Johnson ran into the house, returned with a gun and shot Hixon through the breast, inflicting fatal injuries. When Hixon fell Cole shot Mrs. Johnson in the neck, almost decapitating her.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osgood,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. KINCHLOE,

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
